I am a confident individual with a positive, outgoing personality. I am committed to succeeding in my chosen field of endeavor, employing my hard work ethic, dedication to detail and inner motivation.

I enjoy working with and amongst others as well as meeting new people. With extensive experience in customer service, I am comfortable interacting with people almost instantaneously. I am seeking a position where I can develop my own skills in project planning and program management while learning through my superiors. I am able to work efficiently on my own with excellent organization skills, and am eager to expand my career in my chosen field.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Amanda Ackroyd
